uhs reigns: grid champs

Sometimes it's worse to have a good season because once a team has tasted victory it wants to go all the way.

With one more game left to play in the Conference battle, U-High faced last year's Class 3A State Champs, Metamora. U-High entered the game with a perfect record of 5-0, while Metamora had one loss. The Redbirds went on to win that game 28-0. Since both teams had one loss they tied for the Conference Championship, but Metamora advanced to State since they had beaten us.

Despite the disappointment, U-High boasted a 7-2 record, its finest in years. The team was led by Co-captains Don Manzke, Dan Cottone, and John Bean. Cottone in rushing and touchdowns, while Manzke made the most field goals and extra points.

Much of the credit for success must also be given to the superb performance of the Pioneer defense as well as the super offense. John Bean and Don Manzke were named to the All-Conference team, while Steve Girardi, Jim Scott, Dan Cottone, Vince Kistner and John Bean were elected All-Intercity. John was also named to the State All-Star team. Bean, Cottone, and Jim Scott were named the team's MVP's.

boys' golf

This year's boys' golf team, coached by Bob Metcalf, once again ended its season with an impressive record. The squad boasted a 13 and 9 record as well as the Conference and District titles. However, the team failed to advance anyone to the State finals for the first time in 10 years, with a fourth place finish in the sectional tournament. Senior Paul Legge led the team to its victorious season with a 2nd place individual finish at the District Tourney. Also making a fine effort were Sophomores Bob Young and Tom Witt.

girls' golf

The girls' golf team, led by Seniors Mary Venker and Meleah Melton, finished their season with a fine record of 9 wins and 3 losses. The squad managed to uphold U-High's winning tradition by tying for the District Championship with Peoria Spalding, a team that had beaten them twice during the regular season. The entire squad advanced to the State finals where Mary Venker tied for 11th place individually while the squad tied for 12th place overall. Mary Venker was voted MVP.

harriers set great pace

Competing for top honors with the football team was the best-ever cross country team led by Seniors Tom Murray, Tom and Matt Engelhorn.

The team started out the season on the right foot by winning the Early Bird Invitational at Minonk. Other highlights of the season included U-High's first win at the St. Joseph Ogden Spartan Classic. Another first for the Pioneer runners was the Intercity Championship title.

The Harriers then went on to take the district title, advancing the whole team to Sectionals. Sickness and injury kept the runners from advancing to State. Standout Tom Murray set a new school record on the ISU golf course and was voted MVP.

girl netters gain experience

For the Second year in a row, Luanne Thompson coached the netters to a winning season. Led by sophomore Sue Arildsen, the team ended the season with a 9-5 record, along with capturing the District title. Sue Arildsen and Keri Lenz were the only players to advance to the State meet. Arildsen ended up in the top 16 of all the players at State. All in all the whole team gained valuable experience and had a great time.

spikers bounce back

The girls' volleyball team ended its season with their best record ever and their first Conference Championship trophy. Led by four returning senior letter-winners and a strong field of Junior letter-winners, the spikers boasted a 15-6 record.

Highlights of the season included the Pioneers second place finish in the Intercity tournament. They beat a tough Bloomington team and lost to a tougher Normal squad. The Spikers also got second of 8 teams in the U-High Invitational, and second of 6 at the District Tournament, losing to Fairbury in the final match.

Everyone watches as the Pioneer band performs their halftime show.

This year's marching Pioneer season spread not only over the six home game halftimes, but into competitive playing as well. After three meetings during the summer and one week at Smith-Walbridge camp for the Drum Major, Mr. Ted Parge and this spirited group dove into afternoon rehearsals everyday diligently learning and memorizing their show.

Competitions took them to ISU's homecoming parade, which the band skillfully took first place in their division. They also participated in Band Day at Illinois State and Northwestern University's invitational homecoming parade. The musicians also competed in this year's State concert band competition, at which the group did it again by being one of only two bands to take straight first places.

Besides competitions, the U-High Basketball pep-band lent itself to its usual wild and crazy season, and proved to be, once again, the most spirited band in the Twin Cities. The end of the year also marked the leaving of Drum Major Meg Moore and flag captain Karen Carmichael—After tryouts for both positions, they will be replaced by Delesa Suggs and Kim Kolbe respectively.

bells ringing in fall '78

In the fall, U-High again put on a big production musical, involving roughly 75 people both on and off the stage. The show, BELLS ARE RINGING was under the direction of Ms. Carol Weidmann. Music director was Mrs. Marcia Rowell and Tech director was Brian Anstedt. The love affair between a telephone operator, Ella (played by Sue Weldon) and a struggling playwright, Jeff Moss (played by Sam Mungo) forms the main plot of the play. Numerous subplots, including a gambling ring and a police investigation, must be resolved before the lovers finally find each other.

Homecoming 1978 was kicked off on Wednesday, September 13th with the traditional hall decorations, the victors being the Juniors. And with that, "Just the Way You Are" unfolded into a successful homecoming weekend. Thursday night's bonfire kindled warmth and excitement in anticipation of the upcoming Friday night football game and Saturday night dance—which was just as well, since this year's rain and wet weather put a slight damper on the Thursday night games between the classes, thus cancelling them. The cool, crisp fall air was the perfect setting for the 21 to 0 victory over Clinton, and the halftime announcement of Homecoming Queen Lori Gill and King Dan Cottone. Following the football game, the '78 Clarion was distributed in the lounge, and the annual scamper for signatures and autographs began. The weekend climaxed with the dance, featuring the band, Maiden Cane, on Saturday evening in the lounge—decked with bales of hay, picket fences, and scarecrows. The fun-filled weekend was enjoyed by all, even without the class games. Homecoming is homecoming and any U-Highian will take it—'just the way it is.'

wrestlers rebuild

This year was yet another year of rebuilding. With only two seniors returning (Ron Pocs and Tom Murray) the team lacked the necessary experience of a winning team. The squad, coached by newcomer Larry Albaugh, ended the season with a record just under .500, a pretty impressive season since they competed mostly against Class AA schools.

The grapplers sent 3 men to Sectionals and advanced one to the state tourney. Tom Adams, wrestling at 185 lbs., was the only Pioneer to make an appearance at the State meet. Those wrestlers that advanced to the sectional tournament were Ron Pocs (119 lbs), and Steve Girardi (132 lbs). Pocs finished first at District while Girardi finished 2nd. The team placed second overall at District. In addition to winning District, Senior co-captain Ron Pocs took the Conference title at 126 lbs.

cagers stalled . . . all season

The winter was longer and colder for the basketball team, compiling a 6-18 record, than for other people. The small turnout for the team accounted for much of the lack of success.

A trip to St. Bede in LaSalle-Peru typified the season. Caught by a terrific blizzard, the team and fans were stalled in L-P for most of two days before slowly sliding home down a slippery Route 55.

cagers miss winning route

Girls' basketball broke the jinx this year by winning several games. Although still not on a winning track, the team ended the season with a 4-13 record and much rejoicing.

girl tankers dive into winning

The women tankers spotlighted the winter sports scene with an unblemished record of 8-0 plus its first ever District title, beating such teams as NCHS, Bloomington, and Champaign Central.

Coach Jim Scott's goal to win the District Championship became a reality as the team won the meet in only their second year of competition. This accomplishment earned Jim Scott the honor of being selected as the IHSA Girl's Swimming Coach of the Year.

Victory was not an easy task for the Pioneers, however. Christmas vacation consisted of 4 hours of practice each day. But the long, hard practices really paid off in the end and everyone was glad that they stayed with it. The tankers advanced 2 swimmers to the state meet in individual events along with 2 relays. Polly Peiffer was the only one to qualify in 3 events, while Lori Gill quilified in 2. Aside from advancing 8 individuals to state, the team broke 9 school records. Polly Peiffer and Lori Gill were both elected as captains and as MVPs.

End of the year triumphs capped one of the most successful years ever for the U-High speech team. The team did not have the experience or depth to clean up at the early, large tournaments; but the smaller, quality tournaments at the end of the year were fertile ground for U-High.

U-High won both IHSA District and Sectional, advancing 7 out of 11 to State. There Meg Moore placed 2nd in original comedy, Eric Secoy placed 5th in extemporaneous speaking and Erin McCarney placed 8th in prose reading. Other state entrants were Jerry LoMonaco (dramatic interpretation), Karen Carmichael (humorous interpretation), Erin McCarney (oratorical declamation), and the only non-senior, Junior Delesa Suggs (Verse Reading).

What made the year really successful, though, was U-High's triumph at the Greater Illinois NFL District Tournament. Three UHS students captured their events, meaning that they qualified to compete at the NFL National Speech Tournament in Cincinnati in June. These students were Karen Carmichael in original oratory, Juliet Pritner, in dramatic interpretation, and Eric Secoy in boy's extemporaneous speaking. Only 2 other students had ever gone to Nationals in U-High's 19 years as an NFL Chapter.

At the Awards Banquet in May, Coaches Bob Neuleib, Carol Weidmann, and Brian Anstedt announced this years awards. Best novice speaker went to Delesa Suggs, most improved to Juliet Pritner and Jan Stephenson and best in speech to Meg Moore and Erin McCarney. Eric Secoy received the G. Bradford Barber award, which is given to the senior who has contributed most to U-High speech and debate during his four years here.

debaters win awards

This year's debate team's season was highlighted by the successes of the junior varsity team of Steve Cushman and Jeff Grant. They took second at Peoria Richwoods and third at Peoria High School. At Peoria, Steve received an award for 3rd best speaker. At Western Illinois's tournament, Steve got 2nd speaker in varsity competition, and he and Jeff won the tournament, going undefeated in 8 rounds. Joe Hoane and Mark Schroeder got third in varsity behind Cushman and Grant. The other major success of the year occurred at the Corn Belt Conference Tournament, where U-High went undefeated and grabbed the conference title. For the year, coach Bob Neuleib announced, Dave Finnigan was named best novice, Jeff Grant most improved, and Steve Cushman both best junior varsity and best varsity debater.

student congress stimulating

With only one exception, U-High swept the Greater Illinois NFL District Student Congress this spring at the State Capital in Springfield. In the Senate Eric Secoy received Superior Senator and Best Piece of House Legislation. In the House Jackson Harding received Outstanding Representative while Karen Carmichael received Superior Representative, Critic's award and Presiding Officer. Karen Carmichael received the Best Congressperson award for the year.

contest play accents season

LITHUANIA, a drama by poet Rupert Brooke, was U-High's 1978-79 contest play. Under the direction of Brian Anstedt, several new and different things for U-High actors were tried.

The most notable of these was the Lithuanian accents the cast used. Cast members Kris Hagglund, Jackson Harding, Sam Mungo, Robin Murray, Sara Myers, Juliet Pritner, and Eric Secoy received lots of help on their accents from the assistant director (and resident language expert) Gary McRann.

The play, which is the story of the unknowing murder of a long-lost son by a Russian peasant family, placed first at District and fourth at Sectional. Sara Myers received Best Actress of the Year at U-High for her role as the mother.

Juliet Pritner hopes Eric Secoy will "break a leg" in District competition!

Mother and daughter (Sara Myers (l.) and Juliet Pritner) unknowingly plot the ax-murder of a son and brother.

Kris Hagglund doesn't seem to fear murderess Juliet Pritner.

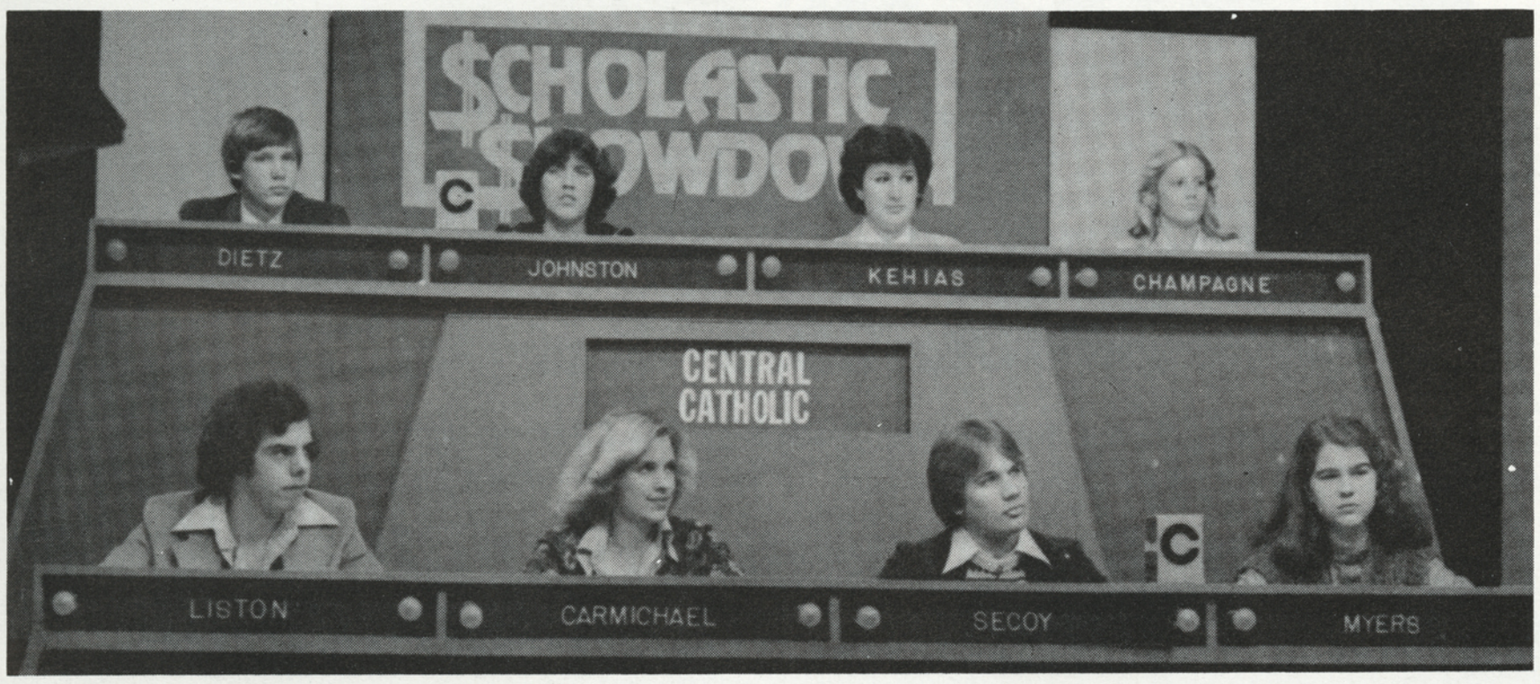
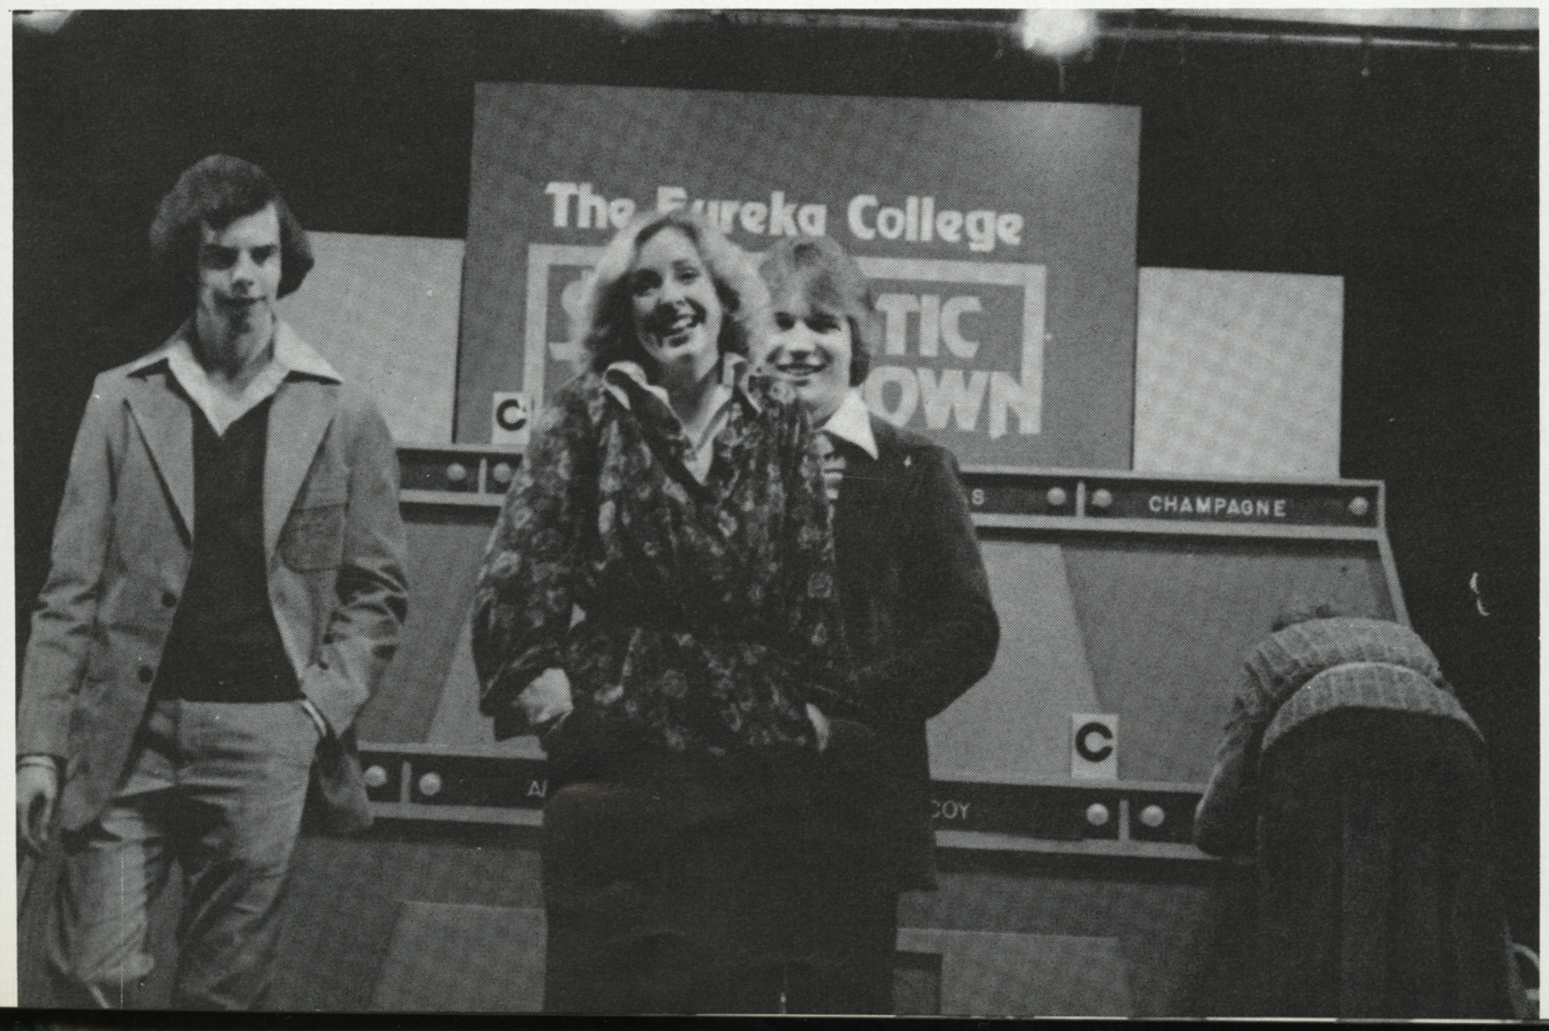
Clark Smith of Channel 19 begins the questioning.

"quick recall" wins awards





A team of University High School students under the voluminous administrative leadership and scholarly questioning skills of an excellent coach, Michael Surma has tasted the joy of victory in the Scholastic Showdown, the "College Bowl" program broadcast on Sundays on Channel 19 in Peoria, topping thirty-one other High Schools in central Illinois. Due solely to the magnitude of Mr. Surma's leadership and imprishable ability as a guide, the team vanquished three opposition teams on the way to the laurel of competition. These schools were Central Catholic, La-Salle-Peru and Minonk-Dana-Rutland. Mr. Surma, who spent multitudinous hours of preparation to train the team felt the students did an adequate job. The team members are K. Carmichael, C. Liston, S. Myers, E. Secoy.

pioneers second at state

A U-High batter swings a little too late, but in good form.

"and they said that we couldn't do it!"

John Bean tries to catch the runner off base.

The baseball team surprised everyone, this spring, by becoming the Class A baseball runner-up—the first team at U-High to place second in the State since 1918.

The team earned its way by beating five teams during regional and sectional play. Pioneers showed their superior talents as Senior Jim Scott pitched a no-hitter against a bewildered Cobden team to win 8-0.

The team faced last year's runner-up, New Athens for the Class A title. The Pioneers fell behind in the early innings, but rallied only to have New Athens tie it in the 6th and score in the bottom of the 7th. The game was a heartbreaker, but it was an outstanding effort by all involved.

Upon their return, the players were greeted by fans and the music of the pep band at an assembly in Stroud Auditorium. Following several standing ovations for the team and its coaches, Mayor Godfrey proclaimed the month of June "U-High Baseball Month", after which Coach Jim Scott announced that four U-High Players had been named All-State: Jim Scott, Steve Girardi, Don Manzke, and Doug Deavers.

Jim Scott and Don Manzke were named to the IHSA Baseball Coaches Associations Eastern All-Star team, while seven players were named to the Intercity All-Star squad. U-High also dominated most of the Intercity's individual statistics as they compiled a 20-8-1 record and tied for the Intercity honors for the first time.

In addition, Manzke came away with the Intercity batting title with a .463 average. Teammate John Bean led the area pitchers with a 9-1 record to give him a ERA of .52. Catcher Dave Burke led the Intercity in stolen bases (12) and triples (5) and the most runs scored (31). The players had a tough decision to make for MVP, and the final count ended up in a 3-way tie between Don Manzke, John Bean, and Jim Scott.

two mile relay claims 2nd at state

This year's track season is one to be remembered for its uniqueness. The team lacked depth in the field events and sprints, but was loaded with middle and distance runners. Any coach will admit that this imbalance is a deterent to a team. This proved true throughout the regular season as the tracksters modest no-win record indicates. But the Pioneer tracksters surprised everyone when they managed to capture the District title as well as advancing six runners to the State meet. Matt and Tom Engelhorn qualified in the 880 yd. run and the mile run respectively, as well as being members of the victorious two-mile relay (along with Dave Bergin and Tim Killeen). Senior Tom Murray qualified in the two mile run, while Freshman Jim Stone also earned himself a chance to compete at the State meet with a second place effort in the mile behind teammate Tom Engelhorn. After the first day of competition at State, only the two mile relay had advanced to the finals. Battling a stiff wind, the Pioneer relay claimed an impressive second place.

Tom Engelhorn hands off to his brother Matt during the State finals of the 2 mile relay.

plummer leads girls to district title

Linda Phillips grits her teeth as she nears the finish line.

This year's track team should have had a bad season since it was forced to practice indoors by inclement weather. Poor conditions, however, didn't stop the team from having its best season ever. The tracksters slated a 7-2 record for the season, broke 9 school records, won the District, and took fourth at the State finals. Senior Lisa Plummer showed her versatility as she led the Pioneers to the District title by winning four events; but the winning margin came from a number of third place finishes from her teammates. Lisa was the lone Pioneer to qualify for the State meet. At the opening ceremonies of the State finals, Plummer was chosen as the outstanding Senior Athlete to read the "Athletes Oath", after qualifying for the finals in four events. After the competition was over, Lisa managed to capture her second Class A title as well as setting the State record. She also placed second, third, and sixth in the long jump, 110 yd. hurdles, and 220 yd. hurdles respectively. This outstanding performance earned her an unprecedented fourth place team finish—by herself. Other highlights of the season included record breaking performances by Senior Cindy Elmore (440 yd. dash), Junior Delesa Suggs (100 yd. dash), and the mile relay team (Cindy Elmore, Kathy Larson, Julie Foster, and Susie Messman.) Two freshmen also broke school records. In the 880 yd. run, Sue Messman shattered the old time by over 10 seconds, while the discus mark was broken by Jenny Proctor. No MVP was selected.

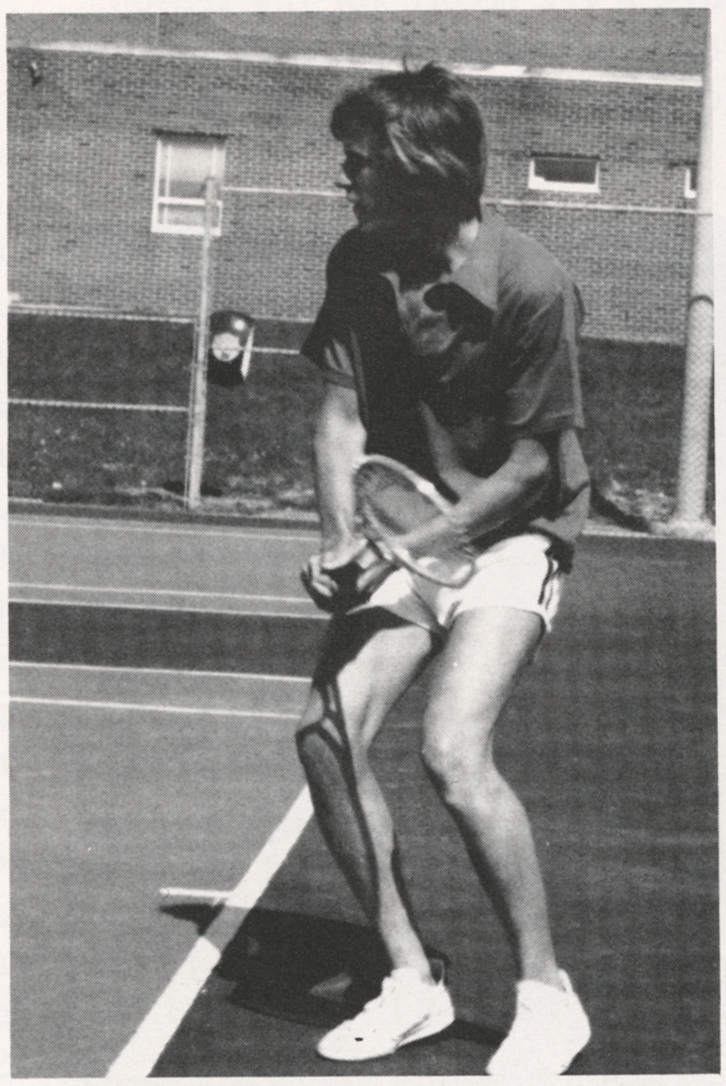
netters win own invite

Newcomer Mike McPheron coached the netters to a successful season of 10 wins and 3 losses. Highlights of the season included winning the U-High Invitational and a second place finish at the District Tournament.

Senior Randy Lenz led the team to its successful season as he won the singles championship at the U-High Invite and helped win the doubles championship with the aid of Junior Todd McElroy. The successful doubles team of Lenz and McElroy also finished third at the District Tournament. Randy was voted MVP.



Rob Nickrent plays baseline with a solid backhand.

Tony Parker tries for an ace.

MVP Randy Lenz celebrates after a U-High Invitational victory.

guy tankers sink records

The tankers posted another winning season as they finished with a 7 and 4 record. One of the highlights of the season was the Intercity Championship for the second year in a row.

Senior John Raube led the team in diving as he qualified for the State meet and broke Chris Honan's old record with a 223.65 point effort. Junior Dave Bodien was the only other qualifier for the State meet. He finished among the top twenty in the state in the 50 yd freestyle. Dave also broke school records in the 50 yd freestyle and the 10 yd butterfly events. Mike Messman, also a junior, became the only other Pioneer to set a school record as he turned in a 5:15.2 mark in the 500 yd freestyle. Dave Bodien and John Raube were selected as the team's MVPs.

Swimming: Kneeling (L to R): N. Kilcoin, K. Karraker, G. Raube, C. Karraker, J. Raube, S. Stewart, P. Houska. Standing: Coach Knapp, J. Darling, G. Pritts, J. Strien, D. Bielfeldt, D. Bodien, M. Messman, S. Strien.

Sir Chesney (Brad Hauskins) and Donna Lucia (Juliet Pritner) talk over old times.

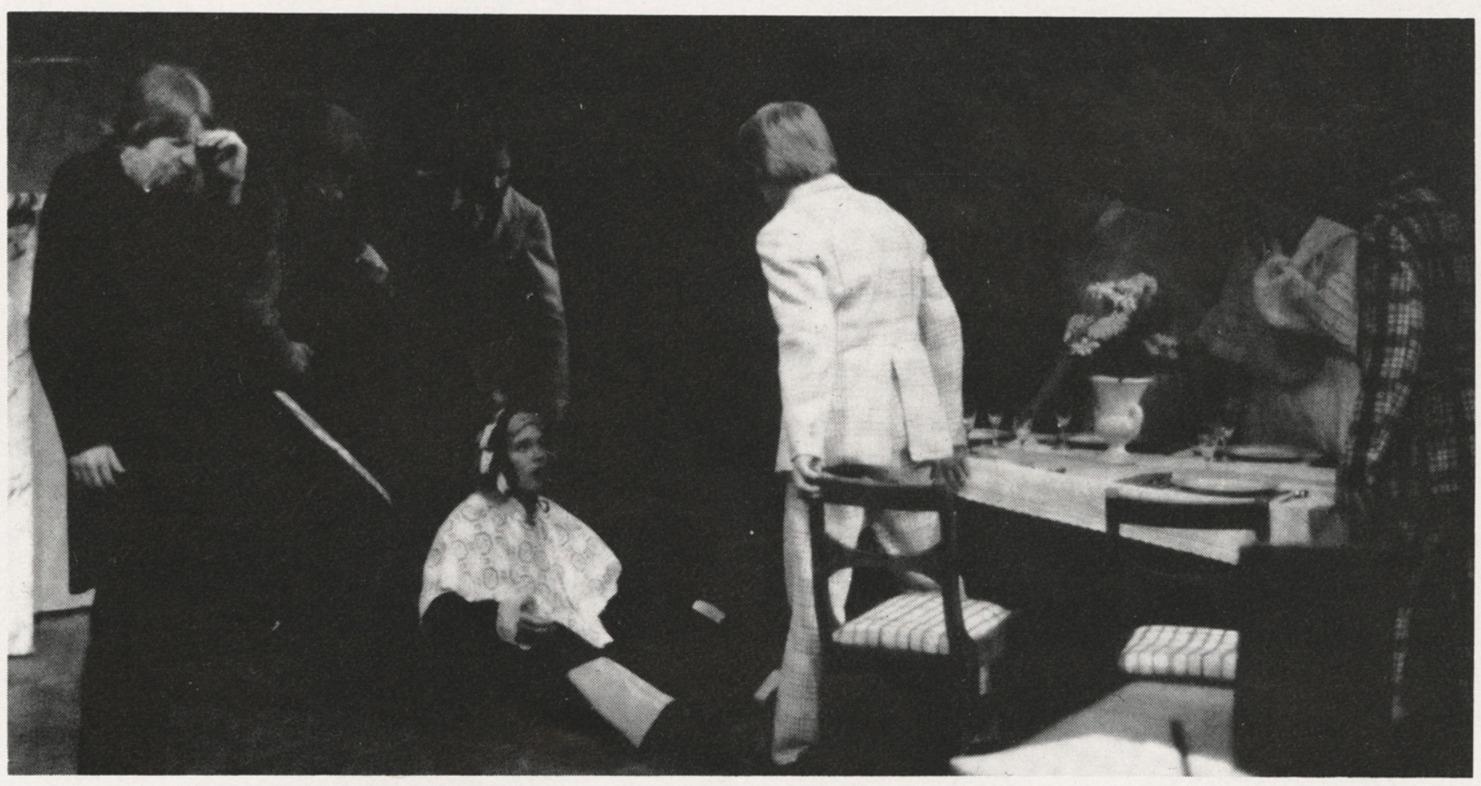
spring brings charley's aunt

CHARLEY'S AUNT, the spring play, represented a major change from previous shows at U-High. For one thing, it was staged in 3/4's round, with seating on the stage. For another, CHARLEY'S AUNT was U-High's first dessert theatre.

These innovations, along with the quick, light-hearted treatment given the farce under Ms. Carol Weidmann's direction, made the play quite a success. The play concerns the attempts of 2 Oxford students (Kris Hagglund and David Perhai) to propose to their girls (Erin McCarney and Cheryl Sherrard).

David Duty received Best Actor of the year for his role, Juliet Pritner Best Supporting Actress, and Dave Sutherland got Best Supporting Actor for their roles. Chip Liston who continued his year's fine work received Best Technician of the year & Best Thespian.

Everyone seems appalled as the "fake" Donna Lucia stuffs flowers down her dress.



In the excitement of helping Donna Lucia with her chair, she sits down—on the floor.

Cindi Lipscomb, Heather Cohen, Shannon Stewart, Tara Funk, Missy Hagglund, Natalie Guichard, Mona Hartman, and Bambi Bacon model clothes from Girltown during the chili dinner.

Student Senate's Fund Drive's cause this year was the McLean County Crippled Children's Camp; and U-High earned $600—the most they had in a long time. The two biggest events during this year's fund drive were the Run for Funds one week before the fund drive started, and the new chili dinner on the Sunday before fund drive week. Of course there was the usual bingo in the lounge, complete with a raffle held on Friday of that week. On Tuesday night Walt Disney's "That Darn Cat" was shown in the auditorium.

Prom was a heavenly venture.

"Heaven Tonight" was held at Miller Park Pavillion, May 12, featuring "Alesha" in an evening of music and elegance. The pavillon was decorated in clouds of blue and white balloons.

Mona Hartman and Tom Reitan were chosen as prom royalty with the coronation taking place on the second floor balcony.

After-prom was held for the first time at the YMCA and action centered around the casino and auction.

You can't even trust dear ole dad not to steal a dance with your date!

Karen Rude may have had to drag Tim Killeen to prom, but they still enjoyed the evening.

Aussie has bloody good time

AFS student, Jackson Harding, from Australia receives his diploma from Mr. Schuler.

Coach Metcalf gets beaned with a pie in an unofficial part of the AFS week pie-eating contest.

Dear U-High students & faculty,

When I was told I would be attending University High School—Illinois State University (believe it or not that was the name on my papers) I realized that I was not going to any ordinary school. However, it wasn't till I actually got to Normal, IL and U-High that I found out how special U-High really is.

U-High is special to me in two ways: first as a great place to go to school. In Australia I don't have the chance to participate in anywhere near as many extracurricular activities—speech, drama, and CLARIONETTE, wrestling team, and also the classes were just fantastic. The thing that I noticed was that the organization of U-High was so different to what I was used to, with all the freedoms and privileges that we U-Highians have, but the student body was so similar to those in Australia. I really have enjoyed the past year immensely. It has been a year that I will remember for the rest of my life.

This is the second way U-High has become so special to me—all the great memories, the wonderful times I've had, of course I've had bad moments too, but the good times far outnumber the few bad experiences I've had.

Finally I'd like to thank all the wonderful people I've met, for the good times I've had, and for their kindness during the year. I'd like to name them all but the list is endless.

With fondest memories,
Jackson Harding

senior night

This year's Seniors opted for a Senior party-dance in lieu of Senior Skip Day. This "Senior Night" was held on March 30th and it included Class Prophecies (written by the seniors about their classmates), lots of food, and a dance with Coach Kelley as the D.J. playing the records and supervising the games. Most of the seniors thought that this senior event was really fun and should be continued as a tradition at U-High.

Before the food is served, Mona Hartman shows Sam, Meg, and Lori how to eat.

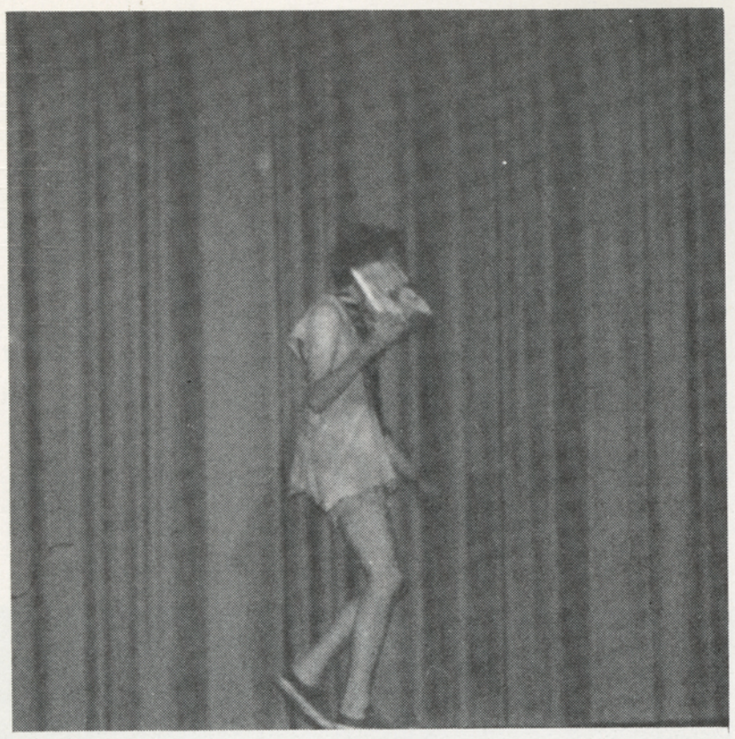
The Junior-Senior Brunch was held at the Union on Friday, May 25. The Senior speakers were Meg Moore, Sam Danenberger, Lori Gill, Mona Hartman, and Tom Reitan. They spoke in a form of newscast where they "reported" the happenings during their Senior year. In addition to the speakers, Dan Foster and Cheryl Smaling, this year's Pioneers, passed this tradition down to Junior Chris Deighan.



Tom "Engie" portrays our favorite Chemistry teacher.

And the Class of 1979 presents: "The Blunderful Wizard of NO". This exciting take-off on the "Wizard of Oz" almost didn't take off. It was only thanks to the Senior parents' great help that Class Night went on as scheduled. Although the class wills seemed to be enjoyed by the readers: Tom Reitan and Martha Eckert, the audience obviously enjoyed the skit better.

The skit, written mainly by Sam Danenberger, changed some of the traditional Oz characters to suit U-High's atmosphere. Meg Moore, as Dorothy, portrayed a typical U-High student concerned totally with not getting caught for skipping. Erin McCarney, as Scarecrow Frank-N-Furter (a well known teacher) looking for a sense of humor, Dave Burke, as Tin Man Sgt. Kelley looking for a group of men to command, and Eric Secoy: Lyblob—the king of the forest (and our favorite speech coach) all played their parts very well.

Other main characters were: Tony Holtz as the Good Warren of the North, John Bean as the Wicked Goon of the West, and Dan Foster as the all-powerful No. The Seniors ended their presentation singing to "Steal'in Time" and remembering the last four years.

Dorothy (Meg Moore), Sgt. Tinman Kelley (Dave Burke), and Scarecrow Frankie (Erin McCarney) scout for "Barneys, Eckerts, and Petes."

The threesome, joined by Lyblob (Eric Secoy) try to get the Wizard of No Secretaries' attention.

Dorothy looks at the froshkins as they tell her to "follow the yellow brick road."

class night proves "wiz" without school sponsorship

Once again the sound of "Pomp and Circumstance" was heard in Stroud Auditorium. Once again high school seniors marched down the aisle towards their diplomas. Yes, it was commencement . . . but it was the class of 1979.

Valedictorian of the class, Karen Carmichael, and Salutatorian, Lisa Plummer, addressed the audience. Other speakers from the class were Meg Moore, Eric Secoy, and Erin McCarney. After the senior singers sang "Corner of the Sky", the class was presented with their diplomas and tassels were moved—left to right. And the graduates marched out of the auditorium to a new beginning.

Valedictorian, Karen Carmichael, addresses the audience.

Vickie Godfrey's smile tells it all.

Erin McCarney advises everyone to get involved in the school.

Congratulations are exchanged.

WELL, a question that none of you out there have asked is: "What's it like working on the yearbook?" The reason that you haven't asked is because you were afraid that I'd kidnap you and SHOW you what working on this book is really like! Anyway, I have gotten a lot of satisfaction from working on the '79 Clarion (at least I know the real significance of those strange rope designs on the end pages).

I learned a lot of things: don't try to get ahold of an Engelhorn—they don't pay their phone bill; and make sure that you and your co-editor get along, and find out if he's going to go on vacation right after school is out!

This job was a lot of work, maybe a little bit of fun (like when Chip was on vacation); but for the most part I enjoyed putting together this book of memories, because this is your book, your memories, your pictures. I only helped organize them.

I only have one comment for you U-High: if you really like having a yearbook, then support it, O.K.? This job is a lot easier if you have people willing to help—even just a little.

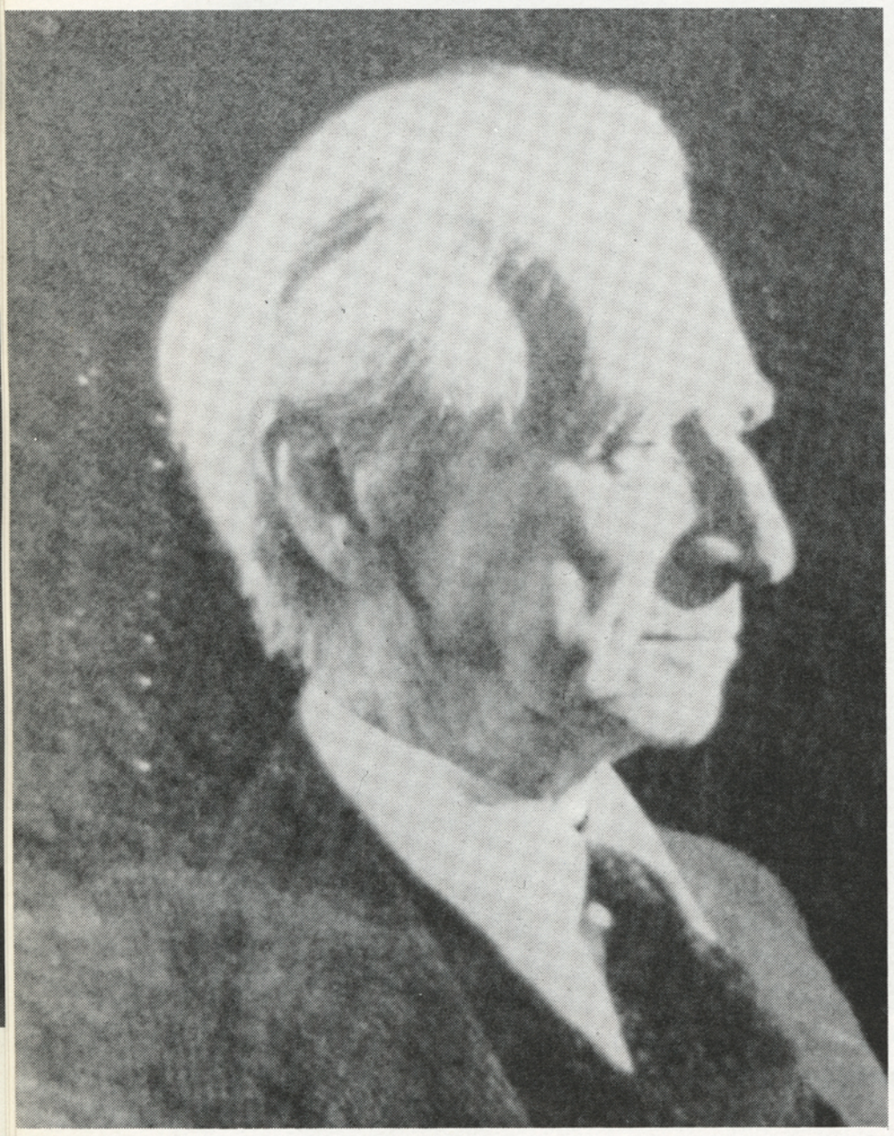
So, in closing, I'd like to say thanks to all the little people who make this possible: "thanks little people." And thanks to Ms. Scott, Peg, Peggy, or whatever you LIKE to be called—we couldn't have done it without you (and you SHOULD get paid more!) And thanks U-High, for making the job worth it.

Goodbye kids, any complaints take them and shove them . . . Oh, well, I'm gone.

EEM

Being an editor is such a frustrating job—you just have to bang your head sometimes to get any sensible thoughts to come out.

on high school



On this page in years past, you have read the fond adieus of the editors of those yearbooks. In these brief epistles the former (those epitomes of hagiographic art) have imparted the exoteric truths of their past successes in hope that others could follow in their happy footsteps.

This I will not do this year for two eminent reasons: A/ I feel one person's romanticized review of his successes, no matter how great, will not help to steer others down the primrose path of life; quite the opposite, it could enervate the person's drive for success so drastically that he would end up with good grades and miss the true point of high school. B/ I have no such successes to impart.

Therefore my advice comes from many years of successful failure: A/ don't try to organize walk outs of the awards assembly; they don't work. B/ Don't try to figure out what is wrong with you; figure out what is wrong with the rest of the world and change it to suit you. C/ Don't listen to paranoid, manic-depressive seniors who can be published too easily.

Ah, to be a senior! And then those four years end just as they had begun—with a bang! This last year involved the seniors in many new activities such as "Senior Nite." This senior activity was sponsored by the class in lieu of a class trip. It included Senior Prophesies, games with prizes, and a dance. Seniors also banded together in their last year to put on a parent-sponsored Class Night in a new style of performance. Of course, seniors also participated in the usual activities: Prom, Graduation, and College-choosing. All of these events brought the seniors closer as a class and as individuals.

Characteristic of the Junior year, the Class of '80 spent most of its time raising money for Prom. The Juniors were determined to give the Seniors a prom they would never forget, so many long hours were spent working in the traditional fashion, Coke Bar. By selling posters and other gifts around Christmas time, the class was able to give its bank account an extra boost. The Juniors also showed their school spirit by volunteering to sell mums for Homecoming. After a year of hard work and good times, the class anxiously looked forward to their senior year.
